- PUBLIC DIPLOMACY IMPACT -

Lack of J-1 Visa Exchange Visitors hampers U.S. public diplomacy goals by taking away a key positive U.S. experience from tomorrow's international leaders, and preventing them from engaging with their American host communities.

Host employers across America agree or strongly agree that Summer Work Travel and Camp Counselor participants:

Enable U.S. based staff to gain a better understanding of other cultures

Contribute to a positive culture in the workplace

Make the community more sensitive to other cultures

“BridgeUSA participants are a highlight for almost all visitors to our area. The students contribute positively to the entire area and are greatly appreciated by all.”

- Grocery Store in Lutsen, MN

“We lost a net revenue of $250,000 due to reduced hours and days open.”

- Restaurant in Grand Marais, MN

“We are doing great business but we are overworked because we simply cannot find enough help no matter where that help originates from.”

- Resort in Grand Marais, MN

“Not having enough staff caused us to limit how many campers we took in, therefore decreased our revenue. The staff we had was asked to work harder.”

- Summer Camp in Pine River, MN

“The mental & physical burden exacerbated by seasonal staffing shortages on our business is almost more of a challenge than the financial losses we have incurred. As owners/operators, we pick up the slack and are absolutely exhausted and burned out. We risk having to close or sell our 4th generation, 24/7 business because there is only so long a person can sustain this level of intensity.”

- Hotel in Grand Marais, MN

“The Summer Work Travel program promotes an understanding of our global neighbors at a time when that is even more important. We have hosted many students from Jordan, Turkey, Serbia and other countries that came with preconceived notions of what the United States was like. Lifelong friendships were made between U.S. staff and exchange participants.”
